

South Carolina Council on the Holocaust

Title I Grants

The SC Council on the Holocaust desires to expand the positive impact of Holocaust education upon all communities, school districts, and schools in South Carolina. As part of this effort the SCCH has created grants for those schools with Title I designations. We will work directly with each grant applicant to design an impactful implementation of Holocaust content and education in their school(s). Funds can be used towards books, resources, field studies, etc.

Award

The SCCH will allocate up to $2000 per school or district for as long as funds are available.

Requirements

1. The schools and/or district must be identified as Title I schools.
2. Each application must involve at least two teachers and impact a minimum of 50 students. (Teachers from different schools in the same district can apply with one application or separately.)
3. Teachers involved in the grant complete a half or full day in-person professional development session directed by the SCCH. This PD is free of charge. (See below for more details.)

Grant Process

1. Interested applicants complete the attached application and submit it to the SCCH.
2. SCCH schedules a virtual meeting with the applicants during which they complete the following:
 - a. Establish a location, date, and length of time for the professional development session.
 - b. Discuss the desired focus that the applicant has in the professional development session.
 - c. Discuss desires that the applicant may have in terms of using the funds from the grant.
3. During the scheduled professional development session the SCCH and the participating teachers will discuss appropriate content and pedagogy when teaching the Holocaust. Also, they will collaborate to create a project plan of how the funds from the grant will be used.
4. The project plan will be submitted to the SCCH grant committee and upon approval the SCCH will either issue the agreed upon funding to the organization of the applicant and to the address listed in the application or the SCCH will purchase the resources directly if that is easier.
5. The grant applicant confirms receipt of the funds and/or resources and uses them as agreed upon toward their project.
6. Within two weeks following the completion of the project that is implemented using the funds or resources, the grant applicant issues a final report summarizing the project and its impact to the SCCH.
